Mr. Morrison is disgusted with the old poem, "Try, try again." He has tried three times and failed.

Captain Ende will spend the summer at Bar Harbor. This is better than to spend the thirty-seven millions he wants on his ship canal.

Things are running queerly at Washington under a democratic administration. The democrat who shouts the loudest for high political morality, can go home and repair his political fences, and nothing is said about it.

Mrs. Gieske who was courted at Dartford, of murder in the second degree for killing a boy named Peter Armstrong, at Appleton last summer, has been sentenced to Waukegan prison for eighteen years. The murder was unprovoked, and it is singular that she escaped a life sentence.

The Tennessee republican state convention on Wednesday nominated Hon. A. A. Taylor, of East Tennessee, for governor. The platform declares against free labor; favors the passage of the Blair educational bill; favors the protective tariff; demands the repeal of the internal revenue system; demands that corporations shall pay their employees in money and not in scrip and merchandise, and favors Irish home rule.

The following is a description of a democratic administration by a democratic newspaper, the Louisville Courier-Journal: "An administration which puts its belly three times a day to signify it has had three square meals, and blesses the Lord it has no views to speak of." So, you will see, all the unaccomplished things about Mr. Cleveland's administration are not being said by republican papers.

Rear Admiral James E. Jettett, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, has retired after forty years of active service in the United States navy. Wednesday, he bade farewell to his four warships, off New York, shook hands all around and was given an admiral's salute of thirteen guns, by the flag-ship Tennessee. The admiral left at once for Washington. Jettett has commanded vessels on every ocean on the globe. During the war, he was chiefly engaged in cruising in the West Indies and in the Florida blockade; he is the hero of many gallant naval exploits.

The theory is pretty well established that despondency caused young Winfield Thompson to shoot his wife and then attempt suicide. They had been married but twelve days, and he was pressed for money. He had put up at a good hotel in New York, hired rather expensive rooms, and when his money was gone he sent home for more, but it did not come, and his beard had already reached $75, and that was past due. He did not let his wife know anything of his financial condition, and there was his fatal mistake. Pride or cowardice kept him from doing his plain duty, but rather than humiliate her or himself by confessing that he was in a penniless condition, he chose to face death and see her dead.

The nomination of Ornsted, of the republicans of Vermont, for governor, is a victory for those who favor the re-election of Mr. Edmunds to the United States senate. The platform indorses the prohibitory law and the bill regulating the sale of oleomargarine; favors state and national railroad commissions, expresses sympathy with Gladstone and Parnell and declares that "the course of the national administration in reference to the disposal of Federal offices in this state, in committing appointments to party bosses, in supplanting faithful officers not justly chargeable with offensive partisanship by active and offensive partisans, and removing honest, experienced and respected officers to make place for saloon-keepers, pot-house politicians and democratic strikers, has been a most absolute burlesque of civil-service reform, and deserves the condemnation of all who desire clean, efficient and trustworthy public service."

Facts for democratic members of congress to read: In 1880 Dakota had 17,452 farms opened and tilled. In 1882 there are 25,467. This exceeds the number of cultivated farms in any New England state. They are greater in number than those of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut combined, and more than are in Oregon, Nevada, Colorado, Rhode Island and Florida combined. There are not less than 425,000 people in the territory, and Dakota stood the eleventh in the great wheat growing districts. To state east of the Alleghenies or south of the Ohio come near to it. And yet the democratic party kicks Dakota aside with a sneer as if undeserving statehood and equality of any honor. Possibly there may not be a hereafter where democrats will be called to the bar and punished for such crimes, but the probabilities are that there will be, and there will be democratic wailing and gnashing of teeth.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The Dane county tobacco producers were deprived of all relief to-day when the tariff bill was killed. Representative La Follette voted to kill the bill and so voted against the relief of the tobacco producers.

The foregoing dispatch was sent to the Madison Democrat. Of course Mr. La Follette, and every other republican member from Wisconsin, and all the republican members in congress, except four, voted to kill the bill, and they did their duty. But why doesn't the Democratic state question fairly, and explain why these men "voted against the relief of the tobacco producers?" The bill granting relief to tobacco producers was tacked on to the tariff bill by a cunning device of Morrison. He said, "here, you vote with me to up-root the present tariff, or I'll knock to the winds your tobacco relief bill." They could not vote for Morrison's bill without striking a blow at some of the important industries of the country, and that they were not willing to do. Common sense and justice dictated the course they took.

The prohibitionists of New York must feel that they have been grossly deceived in Governor Hill. The governor is a sportsman. The prohibitionists helped to elect him. Bascom was his candidate, but he was put up simply to draw votes from Danvers. So after the election Mr. Bascom boasted that his prohibition friends had elected a man as governor "who does not drink, chew or smoke."

Let us see the effect of this. Last winter a bar-room had been established at the capitol in Albany. It was a democratic institution, and was run in full blast before the eyes of everybody. Of course the people of the state became indignant over the matter, and the republicans were first and foremost in enacting a law to abolish the saloon in the capitol, and to prevent the selling or the giving away of any kind of liquor in any building owned by the state. The law was a wise one, and for common decency sake should have gone into effect. But the governor whom the prohibitionists boastfully declared they had elected, will not sign the bill, on the pretext that it is too radical a measure! The point to all this is, how do the prohibitionists like their governor?

Congressman Morrison's occupation has gone, and his tariff bill has gone—gone, in the language of the late James Fisk, "where the woodbine twines." There was never any chance for the bill to be brought up for consideration. It never ought to be considered at this time because an agitation of the Jews would do the country no good. But Mr. Morrison was persistent in his course to bring up the bill, and the pay he got for his folly was a complete defeat. There is a good working majority in the house against any consideration of the tariff question by the present congress, the vote on Morrison's bill being 157 to 140. An analysis of the vote is quite interesting. Of the 140 votes in favor of considering the bill, 138 were cast by democrats, and only 2 by republicans, and 8 of them were from Minnesota and one from New York; and 122 of the affirmative votes were from the west and south. Of the 157 votes which virtually killed the bill, 122 were cast by republicans and 35 by democrats. Mr. Morrison gave notice that he would again call up the bill next week; but he was notified in a very prompt manner that the loyal 157 would again be present when that motion was made.

Here is a little editorial note from the Springfield Republican, a leader among eastern wingwump papers: The president has disappointed the independent and the people of Greenfield by his failure to reappoint Postmaster Hamilton. A complete official who continues in office was desired by probably three-fourths of the patrons of that office. It would have been a good thing to do—the right and fitting thing, and the policy thing as well. It would have been a notable contribution toward an ideal state of things—the time when public office shall be so carefully regarded as a public trust. Both Postmaster-General Vilas and President Cleveland have listened to local democratic leaders, notably Collector Pratt, who hold that the party must be frustrated with offices. These Franklin county democrats have not been ready to accept the higher view, and they have overruled in bringing the president down to their level.

The Republican has been keeping pace with Harper's Weekly in attributing the mistakes of the president to not carrying out the civil service law and his pledge regarding "public office is a public trust," to the deception practiced by his friends, and therefore has not held him responsible for a violation of his promises. But in the Greenfield case, the Republican seems to have lost hope, and now declares with much sorrow and disappointment that the president has reached the level of the scheming democratic politicians of Franklin county, Massachusetts. If the Republican had had its eyes open it would have seen long ago that the president has repeated the Greenfield trick a great many times during the past fifteen months.

OFF FOR MIDTOWN.

WORDS OF CHEER FOR THE IRISH CAUSE BY GLADSTONE.

Greeted with Tremendous Enthusiasm. All Along the Line, the Premier is Met by 40,000 People at Edinburgh—Chamberlain Takes Some Political Individuality—The Home Collage Stands Up.

LONDON, June 18.—Mr. Gladstone started out on his Midlothian campaign Thursday morning. He was driven in an open carriage to the station, and was met by a large number of people. The train was crowded with people, and the Premier was greeted with tremendous enthusiasm. He was met by 40,000 people at Edinburgh. Chamberlain took some political individuality, and the Home Collage stands up.

At Leicester an address was presented, and in answer thereto he said: "Will you give Ireland what you give colonies with no imperial, but Irish affairs. During the fifty-four years of my public life," he said, "I have not seen enthusiasm everywhere equal to that which has been shown for this great cause. The cry of the world is now upon us in a degree never before equalled. Not only the British race, but the whole of civilized mankind has testified the liveliest interest. If I have every reason to believe that the verdict of the country shall be favorable to the people of Ireland, there will be nothing else than a thrill of joy throughout the civilized world."

CHAMBERLAIN MAKES A SPEECH. Like Our Own Curtis, He Carries Sovereignty Under His Hat. LONDON, June 18.—Chamberlain in a speech at Birmingham Thursday evening said that there was not any difference in the principles upon which Lord Harrington and himself desired to deal with Ireland. He vigorously contended the contention which had been made to substitute for the freedom of thought of the Liberals blind subservience to a party leader, and declared that any concession to the Irish in America, which was unqualifiedly hostile to England, would be an abject surrender. After all, he said, he doubted very strongly that the bulk of the Irish people would reject anything short of autonomy. Mr. Jesse Collins has issued a manifesto to the agricultural electors appealing to them to oppose the government candidates and urging the point that their interests have been neglected for the Irish question.

HARDLY WORTH MENTIONING. The Fact That Another Wretch Has Been Hanged by the Hon. Mr. Lynch. BOSTON, June 18.—The Hon. Mr. Lynch, who was lynched at 3 o'clock Thursday morning, was a crowd of misguided men from Alexandria broke open the cell door of the jail with a sledge hammer and threw a rope around the prisoner's neck, dragged him to a wagon, and hung him by the neck of his collar. The body was heard throughout the town but was unheeded. He was conveyed to a place about four miles east of Hallowell. The sheriff started to follow the crowd, but through some mistake took the wrong road, and it was some time before the track of the lynchers could be discovered. A trail was struck, however, in about one hour's time from the time of starting, and the body was found swinging to a tree. The crime for which he was lynched was rape. Last Friday Owens went to the residence of P. Church, near Alexandria, where Ida O'Brien, the yearling daughter of the late O'Brien, was residing. He invited the girl to go riding, she accepted the invitation and the couple rode to a place about two miles west of Alexandria where the assault took place.

CANADA CHANGES FRONT. Former Orders Regarding the Fish Question Cancelled. MONTREAL, June 18.—The Dominion government has changed its policy in regard to the fisheries dispute. It has issued to the captains of cruisers and collectors of customs instructions cancelling former orders regarding seizure of American vessels for fishing in Canadian waters. No mention is made in this last circular of the purchase of bait, transshipping of cargo or shipping of men, as contravening the treaty. The question, therefore, seems to be narrowed down to the three mile limit. This course is said to have been taken in deference to the wishes of the imperial government for a conciliatory policy.

CAMBRIDGE HONORS OUR OWN HOMES. London, June 18.—Honorary degrees were conferred upon Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes at Cambridge university Thursday. He received a brilliant assembly of guests, and Dr. Holmes was cheered enthusiastically when the degrees were presented, accompanied by a laudatory speech in Latin by the public orator. The speaker described Dr. Holmes as a combining of enthusiasm in science and distinction in literature, and eulogized his gifts as a physician, his progress in art and his eloquence in song. He remarked that the yearling daughter of the late O'Brien, who was lynched at 3 o'clock Thursday morning, was a crowd of misguided men from Alexandria broke open the cell door of the jail with a sledge hammer and threw a rope around the prisoner's neck, dragged him to a wagon, and hung him by the neck of his collar. ## MAINE TETOTALERS.

They Determine That the Time Has Arrived for a National Effort.

PORTLAND, Me., June 18.—Thursday was an eventful day for the prohibition party in Maine. The state convention held a prize meeting at 10 a. m. Rev. Mr. Sullivan, of Portland, the presiding officer, hoped to see Governor St. John elected president. The addresses were earnest and patriotic. The principal address was by the Rev. Mr. Sullivan, who said the first time in the history of political parties in this state hymns were sung in a state convention between speeches and resolutions. There were two regular delegates present, and over 100 others who had no credentials.

In the platform both old parties were soundly denounced for their past record, and all prohibitionists are earnestly urged to stand by the principles they profess. The principles they profess are the following: "We recognize other great interests in state and nation aside from the prohibition of the liquor traffic. We aim, in a word, at the application of Christian principles to the social and labor problem. The first step in uplifting labor and securing national prosperity is the abolition of the liquor traffic, which diverts at least $50,000,000 a year from legitimate industries, and costs the people as much more to pay for its effects. The application of Christian principles to politics would secure an equal vote to all, without regard to sex, marriage, race, which all must accept, and subject only to restrictions based on youth or mental and moral incompetence. Such application of Christian principles would secure civil service reform, and the same fidelity to duty as we as individuals must maintain, as a sound currency, the desire of personal elevation in political contests, the abolition of polygamy, of the unjust restrictions which still illegally exist upon the Indians and illegals, maintained against the colored people of the south."

The closing paragraph declares prohibition the dominant issue of the day, and that the time has come to organize a political party on this issue. The convention then sang "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." As reassembling $25 was at once subscribed to the campaign fund. A complete state committee was appointed, empowered to fill vacancies. Rev. Dr. Bushford declined the nomination for governor and presented the name of Aaron Clark, of Boston. He was unanimously nominated, and accepted in a brief speech. The second congressional district delegates held a district convention during the recess of the state assembly, and nominated Col. W. J. Rustin, for congress. The delegates of the first congressional district nominated T. B. Russell of North Berwick, for congress.

CONSPIRACY AGAINST THE KNIGHTS. Powderly Charges That Politicians Are Plotting for His Defeat.

BALTIMORE, June 18.—General Attorney Powderly has issued another circular to the Knights of Labor, warning them against what he considers a plot to pack the general assembly to be held in Richmond next October with politicians. He incloses a copy of a letter received by him from a confidential source, in which he is urged to join the organization and endeavor to secure the nomination of prominent local politicians, regardless of party, to elect to pack the assembly. The source declared "we in the company" employ, and not known to be a knight. Continuing, Mr. Powderly says: "Failing in breaking up the order by means of misrepresentation, the politicians would now resort to the political trick of packing the next general assembly. Every effort must be put forth to prevent the infamous scheme from being consummated. From now until the general assembly meets we must expect to hear all manner of evil reports concerning the order, its members and officers. Everything that can be done to make the next general assembly a failure will be done. When Washington at Valley Forge gave the order 'Not a man but a soldier on guard to-night' the roll-call of his entire army would not muster as many men as are to be found in a district assembly of the Knights of Labor, and the interests they represented were not so great. Let the word go along the line from district assembly to the next resort, to put down the Knights of Labor on guard to-night, and the assembly will be a failure. See well the characters, the records, and the abilities of those who will go to Richmond in October."

CHICAGO MARKETS. CHICAGO, June 18.—2.30 P. M.

Picturing for Relief.

BALTIMORE, June 18.—General Master Workman Powderly has issued another warning them against those "considerable" and "valuable" general assemblies in Richmond next October with politicians. He incloses a copy of a letter received by a knight from a wealthy corporation, in which the latter offers to contribute $100,000 and endeavor to secure the initiation of prominent local politicians, regardless of party, the object being to pack the assembly. Powderly says that he has no objection to employment, and not known to be a knight. Continuing, Mr. Powderly says:

Falling in breaking up the order by the action of the courts, the knights and assemblies would now resort to the political trick of packing the next general assembly.

Barberies to-morrow—New York Saving Store.

—Rock River Encampment No. 3, I. O. O. F., assemble in regular semi-monthly session this evening at Odd Fellows hall.

The funeral of the little son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Morgan will be held at St. Patrick's church to-morrow morning at nine o'clock.

—Anderson has enlarged his orchestra for to-night and will surprise the public as to what can be done in Janesville in this line.

—People's Lodge No. 469, Independent Order of Good Templars, regular weekly meeting this evening—Court Street M. E. church block.

—The "Erangeline" entertainment to-night at the opera house will commence promptly at 8 o'clock and be concluded at 10:30 o'clock.

—It is claimed that "Brangeline" entertainer to-night, is one of the finest and second none in the state.

—Oban Branch Lodge No. 36, Ancient Order of United Workmen, assemble in regular semi-monthly session this evening—lodge room in the Lappin block East Milwaukee street.

—Miss Bertha Schell, of this city, has our thanks for a tray of beautiful roses. There are ten varieties, all of which show on exhibition at the recent horticultural fair. They are fine specimens.

—The public will miss a treat if they do not hear the ladies' double quartet to-night at the opera house. We are assured by one who listened to a rehearsal, that their rendition was par excellence.

—The funeral of Miss Fannie Tobin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Tobin, was held at St. Patrick's church this morning. The Rev. Father Spillard officiated, and after the services the remains were taken to the Catholic cemetery for burial.

—Commencing next Saturday, the short line limited for St. Paul and Minneapolis, north bound, will stop at Atkinson and make connection with short train for Janesville. This will enable passengers to leave Chicago at 7:30 p. m., and arrive at Janesville at 10:30.

—As an unknown man was walking along East Milwaukee street last evening, he was attacked with a sudden sickness and fell to the ground, cutting his head severely on the curbings. He was taken into a house near by and after a time regained consciousness.

—The funeral of Miss Fannie Russell was held at the home of her parents in the third ward. The Rev. T. Devitt officiated, and the pall bearers were F. P. Prouty, Charles Stevens, K. W. King and E. R. Carpenter. The remains were interred in Oak Hill cemetery.

—Some of the roughs who were engaged in the row at Wheeler's grove yesterday, were brought before Judge Patton this afternoon. William Lepper was fined two dollars; John Wilkins two dollars; John Delaney three dollars; Richard Garry three dollars; Jerry Leahy two dollars, and John Horton two dollars.

—There is to be a general change in the running time of the Chicago and Northwestern road, commencing next Sunday. The new time tables have not yet been received but it is understood that the trains on the line from Chicago to St. Paul will be more affected than those on the direct line from this city.

—The city of Janesville last year paid to the state, on account of the one mill tax for the school income, the sum of $4,007.20, and has just been paid back the sum of $3,497.80, of the same amount thus contributing the sum of $509.40 for the support of the schools in other parts of the state. The regular amount received from the state school fund outside this tax was $1,344.40.

—A party of hoodlums attended the picnic at Wheeler's Grove yesterday evening, filled with booze, and made themselves very conspicuous by raising a disturbance. Suddenly after a little skirmish, in which a few of the disturbers received a blow from the marshals' club, a dozen or so of the ring-leaders were lodged in the county jail.

—Patent Iron Reservoir vases, especially adapted for cemetery use. They only require water every two weeks, and the flowers and plants keep fresh and bright longer in them without water than in any other kind of vase made. We feel confident that they will fill a want long felt for a vase that will not require looking after every day. At Bennett's marble works.

—The rooms of the Good Templars in the Court Street M. E. church block were brilliantly lighted up last evening and a very fair sized audience of the sons and daughters of Scotch origin gathered very early. A very excellent programme was presented and the hearty applause that followed each number showed that it was fully appreciated. It is to be hoped that these entertainments of the Caledonian society will be kept up.

—The funeral of the late John Hodgdon, of Sharon, was held in this city at 2 o'clock this afternoon, from the residence of his son, Mr. J. W. Hodgdon, of the first ward. The services at the grave were conducted by the Rev. Frank Payne, of Sharon. The pall bearers were Mosses, Volney Atwood, E. W. Vandervlyn, James McDonnell and C. W. Phillips. The remains were buried in Oak Hill cemetery.

—There was a serenading party going on in the fourth ward last evening. Some very excellent singing was enjoyed by the people of that part of the city, but at one house twenty minutes of vocal gymnastics failed to bring any response from the fair one supposed to be within, when they discovered that the entire family were visiting in another city, and that their audience had consisted of two hired girls with their best young men.

Women's Rights.

There are some rights which women possess to a rare degree. One of them is the right to marry. Fully endorsing this sentiment, a young lady walked into the city last Friday evening, after closing her school for the week, and the holy bonds of wedlock. Monday morning she walked back to her school, resuming her work as unconcernedly as though the great event of her girl life was still unwritten history. The scholars addressed her as Miss — all day and the same title greeted her at a tea party in the evening. Calling the hostess aside she hesitatingly suggested that she should be known in future as Mrs. —.

Conversations followed in rich profusion, and the tea party was speedily transformed into a woman's rights convention, while the subject of matrimony furnished a topic for discussion. At a seasonable hour the bride returned to her boarding house and then the prompt convention discussed the right of the schoolmaster to get married with out first announcing her intentions to the school board. It was finally decided by a vote that if she possessed the right to perform the rash act that the present company also had some rights, which they would proceed to assert. Half an hour later a procession of women quietly marched down the road armed with tin pans, oach bells, and other sacred instruments and surrounding the school of the unsupporting educator proceeded to give a moonlight concert. The harmony and time, were a little off, but the volume of sound made up for a good many deficiencies and caused the alighting bride to wake up and get up; appearing at the door she invited the several ladies to walk in, which they did with alacrity and prolonged the visit until after midnight. When the visitors said good night the prominent hostess suggested that the delegation and her consent to walk down to Janesville and reside her husband.

The First Regiment.

The meeting of the commissioned officers of the first regiment, W. N. After the installation ceremony was given in degrees of the council, a very interesting ceremony, witnessed by about fifty persons.

The Grand Temple of the Order, for Wisconsin, met in annual session Wednesday afternoon, at the same place, with a very good attendance, about one half of the temples of the state being represented. The afternoon was spent in receiving the reports from temples.

Thursday morning, Grand Templar A. J. Smith, of Amherst, read his annual report, showing the very satisfactory character of his work in the past year, and after the appointment of the usual committees, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

G. W. T.—A. J. Smith, Amherst.

G. W. T.—W. B. Hazeltine, Madison.

Attempted Suicide.

A report has reached this city that John Hammond, a retired merchant of Clinton in this county, attempted suicide this afternoon by hanging. He was discovered in time to be taken down before life was extinct, but at the time of going to press it is not known whether he is dead or not. No cause is assigned for the deed. He is well advanced in years, had a competency, and lived happily with his family.

THE HORTICULTURISTS.

The Important Resolutions Adopted by the State Society.

The following resolutions were adopted at yesterday's session of the State Horticultural society, and were unanimously adopted on its last evening's edition:

By Mr. George J. Kellogg:

Resolved, That the show of the "Jessie" strawberry upon F. W. Loudon's ground exceeds anything we have ever seen in size, productiveness and quality, and we believe it possesses more valuable qualities than any variety disseminated. And in addition to the "Jessie" we are surprised at the wonderful success attained by the originator in producing so many promising varieties of seedling strawberries.

The committee on resolutions offered the following, which was adopted:

Evering Providence having given most delightful reception to this summer meeting of the Wisconsin State Horticultural Society, thanks for which they are hereby indebted to the local committee for their efforts in preparing for this meeting, and especially in making due to George J. Kellogg, Mrs. J. G. Williams, Miss Corie A. Kellogg, and Miss Carrie Lee, of Janesville, for their successful labors in the way of decoration.

Resolved, That the ladies who aided to these sessions by essays furnished, viz: Mrs. B. K. Dorn, of Chicago; Mrs. C. A. Ballard, of De Pere, Wis.; also Mrs. J. B. Doe, of this city, by her eloquent readings, our thanks are due, and that they be made honorary annual members of the society.

Resolved, That the thanks of this society be tendered to Miss Bertha Schell, of Janesville, and that she be made an honorary member of this society for the presentation of the splendid collection of roses presented to this society.

Mr. J. C. Plumb made some timely remarks upon nursery frauds, and introduced the following resolution, which was adopted:

WHEREAS, The Wisconsin State Horticultural society is organized for the benefit of the horticultural interests of the state in advancing every good thing and condemning every injudicious measure, therefore,

Resolved, That we do most earnestly protest against the dishonest practice of true agents, whom we have reason to believe are, and for years have been, deceiving tree planters of this state by pretending to sell them trees grown in Wisconsin, while they deliver stock which was grown in a climate entirely foreign and without any show of successful growth and fruit bearing, and with special reference to what has been advertised as "Lora and Sparta, Wis., and in all similar practice which prevails in this state and the west.

The following resolution was also adopted:

WHEREAS, Words having come to us of the action of the American Nurserymen's Association according to the J. K. Jewett of the state of Wisconsin, after the election of Mr. P. Fogg to that position such action does not meet our approval, therefore,

Resolved, That our executive committee be and it is directed to take cognizance of this action and report at our next meeting.

To-morrow—Linen collars with capes and buttons 5c. N. Y. S. S.

Children's Day.

The state horticultural society association committee have arranged for a "children's day" at the Grove Congregational church and the Disciple church at Center, next Sunday morning, the 20th inst., and at Footville Sunday afternoon next. Prof. E. G. Smith, of Beloit, and Mr. James Garfield, of this city, will visit the Grove church in the morning. Services at 10:30. A large delegation from this city and from other parts of the county will visit the Disciple church at Center in the morning and the Footville churches in the afternoon.

To-morrow—Silk mitts at 25c. N. Y. S. S.

To Help Ireland.

The meeting held in Lappin's hall last evening to raise money for the Irish parliamentary fund was well attended, when it is considered that many supposed until late in the afternoon that Alexander Sullivan could not be present. Those who did go made up for their comparatively small number by their enthusiasm.

The speaker possesses such magnetism united with eloquence and logic, that an audience is entirely under his control, and as he pictures the situation of Ireland and spoke of what the leaders were trying to accomplish, the hearers seemed almost carried away.

At the close of his remarks, Dr. J. B. Whiting addressed the meeting, he being followed by the Rev. Father Spillard, of St. Patrick's church.
